LOCAL MATTERS

San rises tomorrow at 5:19 a. m. and sets at 6:47 p. m. High water at 12:28 a. m. and 12:39 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section generally fair tonight and Friday; light southerly winds.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION today, while devoid of undue excitement, has been conducted in a determined manner by the candidates and their friends, and a large vote will doubtless be polled. By eleven o'clock the combined ballots cast at the various precincts were larger than that of most primary elections, and that fact presages a heavy vote by the time the sun sets. The voting in the county is said to have been spirited. The temperature was rather too hot for much hustling around on foot, and the workers utilized "fixes" mostly in drumming up supporters. About eleven o'clock there was a decided lull, and carriages moved as lazily through the streets as London cabs on the lookout for passengers. In the First ward the polls were on the shady side of the street, and numbers who had been employed as ticket-holders and whippers-in pulled election-brand cigars and kept a sharp lookout for voters whom they generally importuned a square or so from the voting place.

The sun glared fiercely against the Second ward polls, situated on the west side of Royal street, opposite the market, and east of the outside of the City Hall, keeping their eyes on every point of the compass for approaching prey.

Conditions at the Courthouse precinct were bitter, and the shade from the trees afforded ample protection from old salt's rays. More people were concentrated at this point than at the others, and there was more animation. The Friendship precinct attracted but few persons, the voters depositing their ballots and quitting the scene, the sun's rays being too much for them to linger long in front of the old engine house.

The Fourth ward workers watched the polls from under the trees on the opposite side of the street, and when an individual, supposed to be undecided as to the merits of the candidates, hove in sight he was intercepted by the champions of the different candidates for Delegate and committeemen.

About the average number of purchasable individuals were in evidence at all the precincts. They have been on the market for the past few days, and made themselves conspicuous in places where they are seldom seen save on the eve of an election. The prices fixed have been by no means maintained on account of the abundant supply. Rates will doubtless drop before the sun sets.

The total vote cast at four o'clock was as follows:

First ward.....	230
Second ward.....	180
Third ward, J. C. H. precinct.....	196
Fourth ward.....	203
Total.....	973

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.—The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, which was to have been held last night, was not held, owing to the fact that only two members of the board (Mayor Simpson and Commissioner Lawler) appeared. As was stated in yesterday's Gazette, through a written report submitted by Chief James F. Webster, Police Commissioner Davis was arraigned before Mayor Simpson Tuesday night on complaint of Police Commissioner Griffin, who charged him with telling George Emmert, who conducts a saloon on north Fayette street, what policemen would do to him that beat on Sunday. The Mayor, with Commissioner E. E. Lawler and Police Commissioner Frank C. Sparks, after hearing the evidence in the case, dismissed the accused. During the hearing it was alleged that Davis had innocently asked Davis who would be on that beat on Sunday and Davis had told him that one of his partners would be on duty. In the report made by Chief Webster to the Mayor it was charged that Davis had told Emmert he had better be on the lookout for them, meaning Davis's partners. Police Commissioner Griffin suggested that the Chief misunderstood him, as he did not say that Emmert had better look out for them. The Chief, as required by the rules, will submit a report to the Commissioners similar to the one handed the Mayor, but the Mayor having examined the facts in the case it is not supposed any further action will be taken.

Chief Webster asserts that he understood Officer Griffin to say substantially what he wrote in his report to the Mayor and Commissioners, as did also Officer Travers, who was present on the occasion. The chief and Mr. Travers today made the following affidavit:

STATE OF VIRGINIA, to wit:
The day personally appeared before me F. F. Marbury, a notary public in and for the city and State aforesaid, James F. Webster, chief of the police force of said city, and Thomas H. Travers, one of the police force aforesaid, and made oath according to law that Police Commissioner Arthur C. Davis had notified George Emmert, who keeps a public place on north Fayette street, that he (Davis) would not be on duty on Sunday, the 19th inst., and that Police Commissioner James W. Griffin and James L. Bowen would be on duty and that he told Emmert to look out for them.

JAMES F. WEBSTER.
THOMAS H. TRAVERS.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 22nd day of August, 1901.
F. F. MARBURY, Notary Public.

SHOOTING AT FALLS CHURCH.—A negro, who gave his name as Richard Brown, reported to the Washington police last night that a shooting affray had occurred at Falls Church earlier in the evening, and that a man named Moore had been shot by a negro named Brooks, who is said to live near Anacostia, D. C. Brown said that Brooks was seen going to Washington and that the sheriff of Alexandria county desired the Washington police to look out for him. A full description of Brooks was given the police. The negro who made the report did not seem to know much about the man who was shot.

MARINE NOTES.—The little steamer George J. Seaford, which formerly ran excursions between Washington and Buena Vista, as was stated yesterday has been taken to the shipyard, where she has been hauled out on the railway to have her metal removed and the hull caulked and repaired. She will also be given a thorough overhauling of house and machinery. It is said that the steamer will shortly leave for Florida waters, where she has been chartered to run daylight excursions.

The ferry steamer Columbia of the Washington and Alexandria ferry line had her annual inspection yesterday by the officers of the United States steamboat inspection service. The steamer was found to be in excellent order, and her license for the route was renewed for another year.

The tug Mohler, which has been undergoing repairs at the shipyard, has been launched and will go into service again.

The schooner John Maginnis has sailed from Alexandria for the Severn river, and will load a cargo of glass-making sand there for the Old Dominion glass works. She brought 175 tons to the Virginia Glass Works a few days ago.

OYSTER INSPECTOR.—The attention of the Mayor has been called to the fact that for several years past there has been no oyster inspector at this port, and numbers interested in the trade are in favor of the election of such an officer by the City Council. The position of late has gone begging, no one deeming the remuneration sufficient to warrant the attention required. The inspector receives on each bushel upon all oysters sold, the consumer paying the tax. It is urged by some that the law is designed to protect the consumer, as by its provisions he or she gets lawful measure and sound bivalves. The Mayor will give the matter his attention, and should no one be found to accept the position he will see that the measures required by law are properly stamped by the Clerk of the Market and used in measuring oysters. It is charged that often oysters ordered away from Washington docks are brought here and disposed of in the absence of the proper official to condemn them.

PERSONAL.—Miss Bessie Whitehead, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting Miss Edna C. Joyce.

Mrs. James Quinn and sister, Miss Annie Redmond, who have been on a visit to Rapidan, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. E. Nightingale is critically ill at her home on north Patrick street.

Hon. Claude A. Swanson and Mr. S. C. Neale have sailed for Antwerp.

Miss Cora Webster and Miss Edna Fulmer left yesterday for the Paris Exposition.

THREATENED TO SHOOT TWO MEN.—A. F. Motley, who conducts a grocery store in West E. st., appeared in the police station last night and stated that Constant Ponnet, a florist, residing in the same neighborhood, had threatened to shoot him and his father, W. H. Motley. Motley stated that Ponnet appeared at his store yesterday evening and said that he was going to shoot Mr. Motley's father. The complainant remonstrated with him, and Ponnet then threatened to shoot complainant. The Mayor directed the chief to draw up a warrant for Ponnet's arrest. The case this morning when examined in the Police Court resolved itself into one of disorderly conduct and Ponnet was fined five dollars.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. Kate E. Nowland, wife of Mr. Charles Nowland, died suddenly at the residence of her father-in-law, Mr. George A. Nowland, 4 south Fairfax street, between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning. The deceased was 20 years old. She was a native of Richmond, but since her marriage a short time ago had resided in North Carolina with her husband, who is employed there. At the time of her death she was on a visit to her husband's parents in this city. Mrs. Nowland had recently been a sufferer from hemorrhages of the lungs, but she was not supposed to be in a critical condition, and her death was entirely unexpected.

POLICE COURT.—The following cases were disposed of today:
Joseph Tucker, charged with assaulting and beating Ella Thurn, was dismissed.
Samuel Montgomery, charged with an assault on Champ Carter with a knife, was dismissed.
Constant Ponnet, charged with threatening and abusive language toward A. P. Motley, was fined $5.

NIGHT REPORT.—Last night was clear and warm. One prisoner and one lodger were at the station house.

DEBATING SOCIETY REORGANIZED.—The Patrick Henry Debating Society which was organized here in the early "forties" by J. Humphrey McVeigh, W. Leroy Brown, John A. Velich and others, and was afterwards continued at St. John's Academy over forty years, has been reorganized at Old Point Comfort College, with 19 members.

ANOTHER NEGRO LYNCHED.—One of the most brutal cases of criminal assault in the history of North Carolina occurred at McFarlan, a small station in Anson county, near the South Carolina line, yesterday between 1 and 2 o'clock. The victim was Miss Lena Keith, daughter of a well-to-do farmer, aged twenty-two years, and her assailant was Luther Hought, a negro of desperate character. The assault took place at the house of the young woman, where the negro asked for water to drink and later ascertained the absence of her brother a short distance away at the stables on the farm. In committing the deed the negro cut the woman with a knife, two ghastly wounds having been found at the back of her head and across the breast. A posse gave pursuit, and the negro was overtaken and lynched about sundown two miles from McFarlan, in South Carolina. He was swung to a limb and fifty shots were fired into his hanging body. A placard on his breast after the lynching bore this inscription: "Our white women must be protected."
